Fish Welfare:

The following is for the safety and welfare of our fish stock, please follow these guidelines:

Be prepared to land a fish, have landing net, unhooking mat and weigh sling (wet) ready for use, along with a bucket of lake water, weighing scales and camera in easy reach.

Remove hook / rig from fishes mouth as soon as is practical and apply antiseptic.

Return fish safely to water (in sling) as quickly as possible.

When holding fish for photographs:

Always remove jewellery / wristwatches etc. before handling fish.

Support the fishes weight with both hands underneath the fish (we will advise if you're unsure) and at all times keep fish above the unhooking mat.

Do not lean or rest the fish on its stomach.

Take care not to interfere with the gills or damage fins / scales.

Never stand when pictures are being taken or hold the fish high above the mat.

Do not over extend the fish towards the camera.

If fish struggles whilst raised, cradle it towards your body to prevent the fish falling, you may get messy but it will prevent fatal injury (possibly yours if you damage the fish!).

Always use the provided weigh sling to return the fish to the water.
